BRIGHT FOR MAYSVILLE

'Will Be Base For Immense Southern Coal Traffic.'

Company With $10,000,000 Capital to Build Railroad Between the Mines and This City.

COLUMBUS—MAYSVILLE!

This Is Good News If It's True News
—And Maybe 'Tis!

For nearly fifty years, says Saturday's Times-Star, plans have been made and laid aside for the construction of a railroad that would connect the Southern lines that have their termini in Cincinnati with the Eastern and Western trunk lines that cross the state laterally. The dreams of half a century have come to pass.

On Thursday there was filed in the office of the Recorder of Fayette county, at Washington Courthouse, a mortgage given by the Ohio River and Columbus Railway Company in favor of the Union Savings Bank and Trust Company of Cincinnati for $1,000,000.

The mortgage is to secure an issue of bonds for the construction of a steam and electric road through Brown, Highland, Fayette, Madison, Pickaway and Franklin counties.

The Southern terminus of the road will be at Maysville, Ky., crossing the river from Aberdeen. From Aberdeen the road will run through Ripley, Georgetown, Sardinia, Hillsboro, Washington Court House, and on to Columbus, where it will cross the trunk lines entering that city. It will be operated as a steam road, although the charter gives the Company permission to change the motive power to electricity. Its projectors, who have been working quietly, are sparing no expense in the construction of the line. The grading has been carefully done, the rails are of the heaviest and best quality of steel, and the passenger and freight equipment will be first class. The locomotives are of the modern 100-ton variety. As a passenger line from Northern Ohio to the South it is claimed that it will secure much of the traffic, as, by its connection at Maysville with the L. & N., it forms the shortest route. The projectors figure therefore to control all the travel from Columbus and Northern points to the South. Immense coal elevators will be erected along the river at the crossing point; for the new road is going after the coal business as well.

Such has been the progress of the preliminary work that the twenty-five miles of the road between Ripley and Sardinia is to be completed by December 1st. The rest will be pushed forward just as rapidly. The section from Georgetown to Ripley will be running inside of sixty days.

Mrs. Thomas Senteney of West Second street, who has been very ill, is slowly improving.

SUICIDE IN BRACKEN.

John Grau Shoots and Kills Himself Saturday Near Augusta.

John Grau, a young farmer residing some four miles south of Augusta, committed suicide Saturday morning by shooting himself in the head with a .38-caliber revolver.

At a late hour Friday night he suddenly became a raving maniac, and escaping from home wandered off. All day Saturday a posse had been looking for him. As a last resort bloodhounds were put on his trail and the beast finally found him in a secluded place with the pistol firmly grasped in his hand and a huge hole in the temple.

He suffered a sunstroke last harvest, which accounts for the sudden dolefulness of his reason.

He leaves a young wife and aged parents.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT!

Mr. Pierce Stanton Badly Injured Near Here Saturday.

Mr. Pierce Stanton of Cincinnati, Adams Express Messenger on C. and O.'s No. 3, met with a frightful accident just before 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

His train passed here at 9:30, over half hour late.

Among the contents of the express car was a calf, simply secured by a rope about its neck. When the train had gotten some two miles west of the city the calf became unruly, and Mr. Stanton was trying to remove it from one part of the car to another, when it leaped out of the side door, pulling him after it, with the train going at least thirty-five miles an hour.

The train went as far as Dover, when a dispatch was sent to this station, "No Messenger on No. 3."

Answer was returned that he passed here all right.

The trainmen left word at Dover for No. 6, which was to pass in about twenty minutes, to look out for him.

When No. 6 reached a point near the old Capitol Cooper home Mr. Stanton's hand was seen motioning the train to stop.

He and the calf were found near together, the calf dead and Mr. Stanton terribly injured, having laid there fully half an hour.

He was taken aboard and brought here, being removed to the Brooks House, where it was found that he had a large hole torn in his right arm pit, three large scalp wounds and there were almost innumerable bruises and contusions all over him. How he escaped instant death is a mystery.

Mr. Stanton's family was notified by wire, and several members are now with him.

Yesterday he had rallied nicely, and there is every hope for his complete recovery, although it will be some time before he will be well enough to be taken home.

Mr. Stanton is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Stanton, formerly of this city. He was born here and had been on his present "run" since the first of the year.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. THE BEE HIVE!

Found in a Bottle!

There was great excitement on the steamer Lafayette a few weeks ago when a bottle was discovered floating near by its huge propellers. The boat was brought to a stop and with difficulty the bottle was brought on board. Inside the bottle was found a note, which will be interesting to the readers of this paper, hence we quote same word for word. It was addressed

"To My Friends in Maysville, Ky.: When you find this bottle containing this note I will be no more. The boat Saratoga, on which I am, has struck a leak and is fast sinking. In a few minutes it will be resting on the bottom of this roaring ocean. I take this method of sending my farewell words to my friends, trusting that some steamer may locate this bottle. And now I am sinking, and as I sink it is with one great regret—that I will be unable to attend the great sales of THE BEE HIVE THIS FALL. Their advertisements always promise such great bargains, and I certainly like good goods cheap."

This note was signed, but was so indistinct that the name could not be read. We know though that she was a wise woman, and we regret that we will see her face no more. However, we know that there are many more women here like her.

THE stockholders of the Kentucky Milling Company at Henderson have decided that their plant, recently burned, will not be rebuilt. Under existing conditions, political and legislative, there's not much encouragement for the investment of capital in the much-vanished "Old Kentucky Home."

THE laundry owners of Chicago have raised their prices on articles such as collars, cuffs and flat work, in the hope that they will be able to recover the amount lost during the recent strike of their employees; but the employees will never be able to make good the losses sustained by them on account of obeying the orders of the Walking Delegate.

AGUINALDO, the ex-revolutionary leader, but now a pronounced supporter of the policy maintained by the United States in the Philippines, has just addressed a letter of advice to his countrymen. In this he urges them to forsake their besetting sin—gambling; to improve their methods of agriculture, and to attend the Public Schools so generously provided to furnish them educational facilities. It will be interesting to know what anti-Imperialist ATKINSON of Boston and the rest of his gang of anti-Americans now think of their "second GEORGE WASHINGTON."

UNDER the title, "Another Jury Will Try the Case,"—meaning that Jury of "the great common people,"—The Knoxville (Tenn.) Journal and Tribune thus speaks of the trial and conviction of the Hon. CALEB POWERS—

"The deplorable scene which culminated Saturday last in the death sentence being passed upon CALEB POWERS had its origin in the Kentucky machine overriding the will and voice of the people of Kentucky in passing an election law, not in the interest of the people, but in the interest of the political combine that was determined to win by election chicanery, and having failed to accomplish their unpatriotic and selfish purpose in unseating the men the people had elected to office and seating the men whom the people had defeated.

"It remains to be seen whether the people will permit those responsible primarily for this deplorable condition of affairs to hide their misdeeds behind the blood of CALEB POWERS, who was one of the victims of their political robbery. An election is on over there, and the 'Gang' in control may find out before it is over that the sober-minded manhood of Kentucky, regardless of past political affiliations, is opposed to 'judicial assassination' for political effect, and will not stand for the stealing of offices, and the packing of Juries, and the bribing of witnesses to take the life of one of the victims of that political robbery for the purpose of trying to divert public attention away from their own misdeeds.

"The great body of the people, who believe in fairness and justice, are likely to construe the proceedings in the Caleb Powers case as a tacit, though unintentional admission, on the part of the 'Gang' in control that CALEB POWERS could not be convicted before an impartial and non-partisan Jury, and construe this tacit, though unintentional admission, on their part as evidence that CALEB POWERS is not guilty, that the 'Gang' knew it, and that he was persecuted to death sentence, not in the interest of justice and a vindication of the law, but for political purposes and political effect.

"This crowd that has hounded CALEB POWERS to the edge of the scaffold may find out that there are tens of thousands of good men in the state of Kentucky who would ordinarily support them on election day that do not want a political victory purchased with the blood of CALEB POWERS under the conditions existing when GOEBEL was killed and the circumstances surrounding CALEB POWERS in his heroic struggle for his life."

Stomach Trouble.
"I have been troubled with my stomach for the past four years," says D. L. Heath of Clover Nook Farm, Greenfield, Mass. "A few days ago I was induced to buy a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I have taken part of them and feel a great deal better." If you have any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried Angel Flower, try a 25¢ bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. The 25¢ size has just been introduced this year. In his speech at Georgetown in the Powers case the Right Honorable THOMAS COURTHOUSE CAMPBELL, "well-known to the Police of Cincinnati and New York," took occasion, with the Court to protest him, to call Captain STEPHEN G. SHARP a perjurer. THE LEDGER will take pleasure in sympathizing with the eminent Jurymen if he will step down to Covington and personally inform Captain SHARP that he is a liar.

THE Rev. Dr. P. A. BAART, Rector of St. Mary's Church of Marshall, Mich., in a sermon on "Education," said that no Catholic could consistently take or keep the oath of some Labor Unions, and he mentioned particularly the Typographical Union, part of whose oath he quoted as follows:

"I hereby solemnly and sincerely swear that my fidelity to the Typographical Union and my duty to the members thereof shall in no sense be interfered with by any allegiance that I may now or hereafter owe to any organization, social, political or religious."

Father BAART said this oath places the Union before the Church and before the state, and distinctly impeached the loyalty and Catholicity of those who take such an oath.

HERE'S another pair of pictures of a prominent Republican, one drawn by a Democratic Editor who has some sense and decency, and the other drawn by a Democratic Editor who has no sense at all.

"If Kentucky is to furnish a Republican to succeed JOHN M. HARLAN when that able and upright Judge retires from the Supreme Bench, there will be none to question that, should the ermine rest upon GEORGE DURELLE, it will be an award justly merited and an honor that will be most worthily worn."—Louisville Times.

"The latest information from Republican headquarters at the Falls City is to the effect that Judge DURELLE, formerly of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, and Chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee, is to resign the latter position in order to accept the Republican nomination for a Circuit Judgeship of Louisville.

"It should not be forgotten by the voters of the Falls City that DURELLE is one of the four Republican Judges who, while a member of the Court of Appeals, violated his oath of office, ignoring the law and Constitution, set the criminal procedure aside and with deliberation and malice toward the Commonwealth went outside of the Court record in the Caleb Powers case in order to give him a new trial, which the record did not justify him in doing.

"This record should be enough to politically down him forever and drive him headlong into oblivion as a disgrace to the judiciary and a panderer for pell. If his record as Appellate Judge is so nauseating and corrupt, in the name of Israel's God what would he do as Circuit Judge in Louisville?"—Lexington Democrat.

Political Pickings

THE GOOD OLD DAYS!

Louisville Herald.

The Hon. Hubert Vreeland's attempt to edit the columns of The Herald by the aid of profanity and a show of violence seems to indicate a return to the good old days when the Frankfort gang called in all the "bad men" and prevented criticism by showing revolvers and double-edged dirks. The Frankfort gang must be sore indeed. It indicates that the probe is touching bottom. Did the Hon. Hubert count confidently on a full pardon or merely a parole? A true agricultural head, such as he possesses, ought not to permit itself to become excited by the high life of politics. It is better to take things easy and write nice notices of himself in The Farmers Home Journal and sell extra copies to the state at 3 cents per. There is more satisfaction as well as real graft in it.

EASILY DECIDED.

This Question Should Be Answered Easily By Maysville People.

Mr. George N. Crawford, blacksmith and wheelwright, corner of East Second and Lee streets, says:

"The great benefit which speedily follows the use of Doan's Kidney Pills seems little short of miraculous. I procured the remedy at J. Jas. If any one suffers from kidney trouble while such an effective kidney cure as Doan's Kidney Pills can be had the fault is their own."

DEATH OF "JOE" GRIMES.

The Former Big Citizen of Maysville Passed Away in Cincinnati.

Joe Grimes, probably the biggest man in the world, died at the home of his brother Fletcher in Cincinnati Friday night, aged 34 years.

He was a former resident of this city, where his father engaged in the furniture business, and where he was a general favorite, because of his immense size and his sunny disposition.

Joe was six feet four inches in height and it is claimed that at the time of his death he weighed upward of 750 pounds.

So enormous was the man in physical stature that for some years he had been making a handsome income exhibiting himself in museums and theaters. He had also ridden nearly all over the country and parts of Europe, advertising the bicycle which he rode.

A few weeks ago he became ill and went to his home in Cincinnati. Although suffering greatly, he remained in a most cheerful mood until almost the end. He was barely able to move about when he arrived at Cincinnati, due partly to his sickness and partly to an injury to one of his legs received several years ago. The injury was due to the man's weight. He entered a cab one day and the bottom of the cab gave way while he was being driven along the thoroughfare. He was precipitated to the street and dragged some distance before the cabman was able to stop his horse. The injury to the leg, received at that time, did not heal thoroughly.

His Life Saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
"B. L. Tyler, a well known druggist of this town, says he believes Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved his life last summer. He had been sick for a month with what the doctors call bilious dysentery, and could get nothing to do him any good until he tried this remedy. It gave him immediate relief," says H. T. Little, merchant, Hancock, Md. For sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

There is a movement on foot among some Louisville business men and capitalists to build two fine fast sternwheel business and excursion boats to make two trips every week between Cincinnati and High Bridge on the Kentucky river. They will be fitted out in fine style and supplied with every comfort and convenience for carrying freight and for private and public excursions. They will be ready for service in the spring.

Historic Salt river, of which so much has been heard in political legend and story in times gone by, is to appear to the convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association at Evansville for special consideration. Delegates from the little tributary of Central Kentucky will go to the Evansville meeting in force and will demand that they have representation on the requests for extensive appropriations from Congress. Their assertion is that Salt river has received no attention from the Government, although it was ceded by the state of Kentucky thirty years ago with the distinct understanding that it was to be made navigable by locks and dams.

Louisville Post—An inquiry has come to The Evening Post from Maysville asking the names of the steamers, and some information regarding their type, that formed the line between Louisville and Wheeling, many years ago. They were the David White, Alvin Adams, Falls City, Thomas Swann, Baltimore and City of Wheeling, all double first-class sidewheelers, none of which was less than 290 feet long. All six were constructed to run in connection with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, whose Western terminal at that time was Parkersburg, but the steamboat line went up as far as Wheeling. There never was a more expensive line of river steamers on any river of the world than those, neither costing less than $220,000; yet the Louisville and New Orleans Line's craft were equally as fine, with twenty-five hummers on the track. The line flourished in splendid style for a long time, but eventually the railroad made further leaps toward the setting sun, and the Louisville and Wheeling Line of river steamers passed into history, the David White taking a place in the Louisville and New Orleans trade, the Alvin Adams in the Louisville and St. Louis line, and the other four passed into the realms of the unknown.

A Remarkable Record.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many millions of bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of cough in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even as soon as the grumpy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

There is a movement on foot among some Louisville business men and capitalists to build two fine fast sternwheel business and excursion boats to make two trips every week between Cincinnati and High Bridge on the Kentucky river. They will be fitted out in fine style and supplied with every comfort and convenience for carrying freight and for private and public excursions. They will be ready for service in the spring.

Historic Salt river, of which so much has been heard in political legend and story in times gone by, is to appear to the convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association at Evansville for special consideration. Delegates from the little tributary of Central Kentucky will go to the Evansville meeting in force and will demand that they have representation on the requests for extensive appropriations from Congress. Their assertion is that Salt river has received no attention from the Government, although it was ceded by the state of Kentucky thirty years ago with the distinct understanding that it was to be made navigable by locks and dams.

Louisville Post—An inquiry has come to The Evening Post from Maysville asking the names of the steamers, and some information regarding their type, that formed the line between Louisville and Wheeling, many years ago. They were the David White, Alvin Adams, Falls City, Thomas Swann, Baltimore and City of Wheeling, all double first-class sidewheelers, none of which was less than 290 feet long. All six were constructed to run in connection with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, whose Western terminal at that time was Parkersburg, but the steamboat line went up as far as Wheeling. There never was a more expensive line of river steamers on any river of the world than those, neither costing less than $220,000; yet the Louisville and New Orleans Line's craft were equally as fine, with twenty-five hummers on the track. The line flourished in splendid style for a long time, but eventually the railroad made further leaps toward the setting sun, and the Louisville and Wheeling Line of river steamers passed into history, the David White taking a place in the Louisville and New Orleans trade, the Alvin Adams in the Louisville and St. Louis line, and the other four passed into the realms of the unknown.

Distress After Eating Cured.

Judge W. T. Holland of Greensburg, La., who is well and favorably known, says: "Two years ago I suffered greatly from indigestion. After eating great distress would invariably result, lasting for hour or so and my nights were restless. I endeavored to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it cured me entirely. Now my sleep is refreshing and digestion perfect." Sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with Indigestion or other stomach disorder.

If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transmit the nutritive properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each.

Kodol cures Indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me.

WAY DOWN EAST.

There are many things to take into reckoning when accounting for the tremendous vogue of "Way Down East," which will be at the Washington Opera-house soon. The simplicity and the directness of the story appeal to everybody, the broad fun of the imitable "Hi Holler" and the comedy of the other characters, the realism of the various scenes, the wonderful simulation of the blizzard, the strength of the company and the power of the story itself; these things in some measure will tell why "Way Down East" fills the theaters season after season.

A Purgative Pleasure.

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Risers for hiccups or constipation you know what a purgative pleasure it is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not gripe, sicken or weaken, but give tone and strength to the tissues and organs involved.

W. H. Howell of Houston, Tex., says: "No better pill can be used than Little Early Risers for constipation. sick headache, etc." Sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son.
